

Some people say that a PPP is like a couple, as the relation between the private firm and the public authority can last for 30 years or more.

Is just a matter of a good contract that this relation will end well, or do you need other tools.

Which ones?

TOOLS: LOOKING FOR THE PERFECT FORMULA

1. Citizens must believe in the project = Public Consultation/Hearing
2. The project must be viable = Public Agency / Other controls
3. The choice of the private partner must be right = A tender based on good regulations
4. The contract is alive! = Adaptability, Flexibility & Transparency
5. Ongoing process to maintain a long-term relationship = Teamwork!
